SPEECHES AND MONEY

Two Important Factors in the Political Campaign in Ohio.

MUCH TALENT ON THE STUMP.

Two of the State's Best Orators Pitted Against Each Other.

THE STRONG POINTS OF EACH SIDE. Democrats Banking Chiefly on Carrying the Next

Legislature. The political campaign in Ohio waxes warm. It is a battle between orators. Each side claims peculiar elements of strength.

The Democrats, it is conceded, have more foundation for their hopes of carrying the Legislature than they have of electing Campbell Governor.

SEPECIAL TREEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE.1 COLUMBUS, O., September 28 .- The contest in Ohio is reaching the point of pyrotechnic display. Politics is at fever heat in all the cities and hamlets, and special attention is being given to the creation of enthusiasm and interest in the districts. It is practically a speaking campaign. The head of each ticket has no superior within his party in the State as a stump orator. Governor Foraker is especially fortunate in this regard. His work in former campaigns in Ohio has demonstrated that he is a dangerous opponent on the stump. The county fairs, soldiers' rennions and other gatherings have placed both speakers in demand. Their time is filled every day, and on some they are obliged to speak two or three times, in order to meet the demands made

MONSTROUS MEETINGS HELD. Yesterday Mr. Campbell addressed a monstrous meeting at Bucyrus in the after-noon, attended the county lair, where he delivered another short address, was present at a large country wedding, and in the evening made another political speech. To-night he is at Hamilton, where one of the

both sides of the issues.
It is too early to predict with any certainty what the result will be. As yet the issues are not clearly defined, except that of the tariff. There are many who think the local issues will have more influence than the tariff. Mr. Campbell is urging, with considerable force, the alleged mismanagement of the finances of the State and the conduct of the business of the benevolent and penal institutions under the Foraker administra-

Another point which is being urged by the Democratic candidate, as well as by the State Committee and the Democratic party,

HOME RULE.

The creation of the numerous election boards in the State and the boards of affairs for the management of Cincinnati, Hamilton, and other cities is being urged as a peculiar species of Forakerism and the tendency to centralization and robbing the cities of local self-government. These questions are all urged separate from that of the third-term idea, and are given as a reason why the third-term precedent should not be established, especially so with Gov-ernor Foraker and his personal surroundings as the principal figure.
In opposition to the claims of the Democ-cellent management of the State affairs, and they insist that Campbell opened closed the campaign in his speech of ac-ceptance at the Dayton convention, and insured his defeat, if there had been nothing more said in the campaign. There are a large number of Democrats who are strongly in favor of the board of elections and their machinery, and it is not believed their creation will work detriment to the Republican ticket. The Republicans use the argument that those boards were necessary in order to withstand frauds on the ballot, Another thing which affects this argument on the part of the Democrats is that the legislation looking to boards of election was principally enacted by a former Legislature.

THE EFFECTIVE POINTS. As the campaign progresses the effective points of the contest crop out. It is dis-covered that all the single-tax men in the State are arraying themselves, by organization and through their publications, against Mr. Campbell, because of his alleged duplicity on the tariff question. There is opposition to Foraker in his own party by some who for personal reasons make a great deal of noise. Among these are General John Beatty, defeated candidate for the nomination for Governor several years ago, and Captain Lee, late Consul to Frankfort. They are appropriating a great amount of Democratic newspaper space in their efforts to embarrass and defeat For

The Republican managers profess to believe that Campbell is growing weaker on the stump, and that he will not last through the campaign. This is why they insist that opened and closed the campaign the same day by taking issue against the the boards of election and machinery for the protection of the ballot. It is conceded that the Republicans can show exceedingly effective talent on the stump. With an ex ception or two they have not gone outside the State for material. One of these is Stephen A. Douglass, Jr., who opened at Cauton last night, and has a number of meetings announced. E. L. Lampsen, of Ashtabula, candidate for Lieutenant Governor; General W. H. Gibson, ex-Governor Foster and lesser lights are giving Foraker strong support. John M. Langston, of Virginia, the prominent colored orator, will do some work and spoke here last night.

BLAINE CAN'T HELP OUT.

The Republican Committee has been in communication with Secretary Blaine, urging him to take a hand, but have received a final answer that he will be unable to give them any time, owing to a pressure of official business. Ou side of Foraker, ex-Governor Foster is in greater demand as a speaker than any other in the State. He addressed a large meeting at Westerville, 12 miles north of Columbus, to-night, which was attended by the Republican clubs and Foraker Glee Club of Columbus.

It is difficult to determine the force of the several influences at work in the campaign, and their result will not be felt until further on. The Senatorial question is cutting a strong figure on both sides. On the part of the Republicans there seems a general understanding among the workthat ex-Governor Foster will succeed Senator Payne, should the Legislature | you will call on them. be Republican. Foster is a member of the Executive Committee, but being a recognized candidate for the Senate he is not taking an active part at headquarters, pretrust the management of the campaign to other friends, aithough he gives them the benefit of his advice.

Beginners' classes, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. benefit of his advice.

PORARER'S REPRESENTATION.

Foraker is represented on the active force of the committee by his Private Secretary Charles L. Kurts, who has charge of the ap-pointments in the State for Republican meetings, and John M. Doans, Secretary, who is State Librarian by appointment of the Governor. W. S. Cappeller, ex-Chairman and Railroad Commissioner of the State, is also personally looking after the interests of the Governor.

Foster is supposed to be a heavy contributor to the campaign fund, and it is reasonable to suppose the close Legislative counties will be looked after in his interest. While a good portion of the money may be expended in the close Legislative districts, it will certainly result in benefit to the entire Republican ticket and Governor Foraker. The interests of Foster in the committee will not be in the least neglected from now till the close of the campaign, but rather special attention will be directed that way by some of the best political managers Ohio has produced.

A. L. Conger, Chairman of the State Committee, has just closed up some private business affairs in the West, and will now devote himself to the work of the campaign. He believes the Legislature can be carried without the aid of Hamilton county. Certain portions of the Cuyahoga county Retributor to the campaign fund, and it is

Mark A. Hanna, of Cleveland, who was chosen a member of the Republican Committee, has so far refused to meet with them, and his expected contributions will be lost. It is understood Hanna will not vote for

The Senatorial situation on the Democratic side is equally interesting. As dis-tinguished from the State ticket proper, Mr. Campbell is given the credit of being more of a policitian than his friends exmore of a policitian than his friends expected, by the clever manner in which he is handling the candidates for the Senate. It looks as if he would benefit from all of them. His principal opponent for the nomination, L. T. Neal, it is said, has been promised the support of Campbell for the Senate, in case of election, and the result is that Neal is putting in full time or the stump, when it putting in full time on the stump, when it was expected he would be sulking. Likewise, Campbell will benefit from the other candidates. It has been so arranged by the State Committee that the county conven-tions which are being held shall adopt resolutions of indorsement for their favorites. and thus give each a supposed showing in the contest.

J. H. Thomas, a wealthy manufacturer of Springfield, is in the fight, and it is ex-pected his donation to the campaign fund will be substantial. While Senator Payne night he is at Hamilton, where one of the largest meetings of the campaign is being held, with Democratic clubs and bands from Cincinnati, Dayton, and the surrounding towns. Governor Foraker has put in an equally busy week, and to-night is addressing a large meeting at Music Hall, Cincinnati. They are tracing each other closely in the campaign territory, and the people are being thoroughly advised on both sides of the issues.

While Senator Payne could look for nothing more than a temporary indorsement, yet it is thought, because of the strictures which have been made upon him, and that he may have something to say in the contest against Halsted, he has coucluded to aid the State committee. Calvin S. Brice will not be a candidate for the Senate, so long as his personal and business friend, Governor Foster, has a chance to win the prize on the Repubhas a chance to win the prize on the Repub-lican side. Jonathan H. Wallace, of Columbiana county, who made such a good fight for the Democratic nomination, is in the swim for Senatorial recognition, and will aid greatly in the campaign.

The knowing ones, however, in the Dem cratic management, are covered with broad smiles over the preliminary contest which is going on. Should the Democrats win in the Legislature, it is conceded that John R. McLean will be able to control the Demo-cratic caucus. While numerous denials are made for him to the effect that he is not a candidate, it is well known that he is in the field, and that the power behind the cam paign committee comes from that source.

May be the Cause of a Bloody War Upon the European Continent.

THE CZARINA NOT FEELING WELL,

And the Czar's Visit to Berlin Has Been Abruptly Postponed.

THE SITUATION IS NOW VERY SERIOUS.

Russian Troops Are Reing Mussed in Great Numbers on the Frontier.

It is announced that the Czarina has a bad cold, and the visit of the Russian monarch to Berlin has been indefinitely post poned. A war feeling is now dominant throughout Germany. Emperor William is taking a great interest in the subject of electrical executions.

COPYRIGHT, 1889, BY THE NEW YORK ASSOCIATED

BERLIN, September 28 .- The Czar has ent an autograph letter to Emperor William, stating that the Czarina has caught cold, and that her physicians have advised her to delay her departure for several days. The Czar asks that the final directions for his reception at Potsdam be delayed. Prince Bismarck has since communicated with Count Schouvaloff, the Russian Minister, in regard to the arrangements of the Czar in the event of his coming to Berlin. Count Schouvaloff replied that he had orders to prepare to receive the Czar and his suite at the ambassy. The Czar himself has not intimated his intentions beyond his visit to Potsdam. The Emperor will go to Schwerein on Tuesday, as the guest of the Grand Duke of Mecklinburg.

THE EXPECTED VISIT. According to the National Zeitung, the Czar's visit is officially fixed for October 9. The absence of M. De Giers, the Russian Prime Minister, who is now staying in a remote part of the province of Tambor, does not appear to affect Prince Bismarck's determination to have an audience with the

The week has been signalized by an outbreak of the war clamor by the semi-official press. The Cologne Gazette publishes an alarmist article on the extension of the Russian strategic railways on the frontier, pently quotes. There is a simultaneous reappearance of war notes in the Chancellor's organs.

The Vienna papers foment the scare by statements that the Russians along the frontiers of Galicia and Bukovina are in active motion. Six regiments of cavalry and four of infantry have, they say, arrived from the SUSPICIOUS PREPARATIONS. Observation towers are being erected close to the Galicoam frontier, the whole aspect of the country giving the impression that the army is making a strategic march.

These reports have been directly suppressed by the Vienna and Berlin Ministers. Bismarck's motive in re-creating agitation over the Russian armaments on the eve of the Czar's reception is variously interpreted.
Recalling the incidents prior to the last interview the Czar accorded him here, it is obvious that the Chancellor aims to place the Czar again under the necessity of granting a political conference.

The reports also serve other purposes, as they tend to balk Russia's efforts to nego-tiate a loan for the payment of the cost of the repeating rifles ordered in France, and prepare the Reichstag to accept the new military bill, which is now known to involve an extra credit of 240,000,000 marks. But if the indifference shown by the Boerse. ing of the Reichstag, Prince Bismarck will find the members less susceptible than formerly to the old trick.

A POSITIVE AVERSION.

The Czar's aversion to meeting the Chancellor or to giving his visit any character other than that of a formal courtesy, has been intensified by the projected journey of Emperor William to Constantinople. The programme of the Emperor's tour is now nounced to include a visit to Bucharest, which will further annoy the Czar.

The Moscow papers ask it Bismarek dreams of detaching the Greeks from the traditions of Russian alliance. The Greeks attach superstitious import to the marriage of the Duke of Sparata and Princess Sophia. An old prophecy is recalled by the papers of Athens and reproduced here to the effect that the Mosque of St. Sophia in Constantinople will be restored to the Christians under the rule of a Greek Emperor named Constantine, with a wife called Sophia. The coincidence of the Duke of Sparta's name, Constantine, and that of the Princess Sophia, is exciting the imagination of all Greeks as a hopeful augury of coming advantage of. The Empress will accom-pany the Emperor to Constantinople and will stay on the Imperial yacht while the Sultan entertains his Majesty.

GERMAN POLITICS.

The Reichstag is expected to meet on November 4. A regrouping of the parties is inevitable. The ultra-Conservatives announced their determination to break from the Cartel party, as it is becoming too liberal. Herr Miguel, speaking in Frankfort, declared that it was necessary to reconstruct the groups.

Thr existing parties, he said, were products of the past and out of date. The present party programmes are utterly unadapted to deal with the questions of the immediate future. The Progressionists understand Miguel as foreseeing the breakup of the National Liberals, but the Nationals are sanguine that the party will be strengthened by the absorption of a section of the Center party and a close union with the Liberal Conservatives.

Bismarck is favoring the aims of Herren,

Bennigsen and Miquel, and other leaders of the Nationals. He will offer Herr Miquel the post of Finance Minister, replacing Herr Scholz, whose eye malady grows worse. These prospective changes do not threaten seriously Bismarck's hold over the Cartel party, though they are likely to weaken the Government's majority in the new House.

SOME CURRENT RUMORS. The Post to-night semi-officially denies that Count von Munster has resigned as German Ambassador to France. A report to that effect was part of the current rumors that Count Hatzfeldt would be transferred to Paris, Count von Waldersee going to London. The Post does not contradict the Strong Resolutions Showing the True Condition of Affairs.

HELP IS MOST URGENTLY NECESSARY. Some Inside Bistory of the Proceedings of the Beard of Health.

The citizens of Johnstown and vicinity held a mass meeting last night, and strongly protested against the withdrawal of the State forces. It was asserted that such action would probably result in a pestilence. A direct appeal was made to Governor Beaver to rescind his orders to that effect.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH : JOHNSTOWN, September 28.-A mass meeting of the citizens of the flooded district was held to-night. After some business pertaining to the consolidation of the boroughs and the erection of bridges had been transacted, a set of resolutions was presented reciting the present condition of the cellars and other places in the district and stating that it was "with great regret that the people had heard of the announcement that the State forces were to be withdrawn on the 30th of September. After noting the fact that on the very day that it was determined to close this work four bodies were found, two of them being found within a few feet of the Millville public schoolhouse, an appea was made to Governor Beaver to rescaind the orders to discontinue the work, by the adoption of the following resolutions:

The Governor was telegraphed a report of the ation of the meeting, and a copy of the resolutions was sent him. The people were unanimous in the belief that it was very important that the telegraph was the work history inner the sent that the sent the work history inner the sent that the sent the work history inner the sent that the sent the sent that portat not to have the work discontinued now, and remarks very uncomplimentary to the Governor were freely made. It is very doubtul, however, if anything will be accomplished by this move, as Doctor Lee state when he left for home to-night that he did not think it possible that the determin-ation to close the work would be changed.

In this connection a little inside history is given as to the manner in which the Board of Health determined to declare that Board of Health determined to declare that the unitary conditions were such that the word might cease. The members of the board had made a tour of inspection and found the work progressing finely. Quite a number of cellars had not yet been cleaned that had been declared by the board to be in bad sanitary condition, but the work was being rapidly pushed. ONE OF THE FEATURES. While the members were driving around they found the workmen removing dead hodies at different places, and all the condi-tions pointed to the necessity of a continuthe board was discussing the question, a telegram was received from Governor Beaver stating imperatively that the work must cease. As it seemed to be useless for the board to make condemnations if there were no means of carrying out its recommendations, a resolution was adopted in con-formity with the orders from Governor sanitary conditions were such that the State could cease operations here. It was not until a few hours afterward that one of the members discovered how neatly Beaver's olan had worked to make the Board of Health take the responsibility for stopping The members were hastily gotten together, and Dr. Dudley, of Philadelphia, drew up a resolution rescinding the former one, and declaring that the sanitary condition necessitated a continuance of the work. The motion was heartily seconded by Dr. Edwards of Philadelphia, and in the discussion that followed it was agreed that the board should do its duty, and if the Governor failed to carry out the work as they directed, then the blame would rest where it belonged. Some of the members, however, had prepared to leave on the train, and could not e induced to stay, and the matter was dropped, but just by a mere chance was it the work ordered to proceed.

CHICAGO, September 28.—Mr. Henry D. Lloyd, of this city, who has just returned from a visit to Spring Valley, Ill., where he distributed among the destitute minera medicines furnished by a charitable New York lady, writes a long letter, in which he

York lady, writes a long letter, in which he describes the wretched condition of the people there. He says:

Among other means of setting intelligent and unbiased information as to the exact state of things, I visited the Catholic school and the public school in which, together, there are over 600 children, and talked with the teachers and many of the children. The Sisters who teach in the Catholic school said that their children gave unmistakable evidence of not having sufficient food. They were paler than the year before, and they could not study as well. Children would frequently fall asleep at their desks from weakness. But so sturdy was their pride and self-respect that it was almost impossible for their teachers to obtain from them any acknowledgement that they did not get enough to eat at home. Children who were unmistakably suffering for want of nourishment would even refuse food when offered them by their teacher, and in some cases, the Sister Superior said, when food was taken by some such child it was immediately rejected by the stomach, showing how far the exhaustion of hunger had gone.

One of the teachers in the public school stated that on her way to the school in the morning she would sometimes meet as many as a dozen of her class, out with baskets, going to beg. As they saw her the little ones, ashamed, would try to hide from sight until she had McKeesporter Talks About the Searle and O'Connor Contest.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. McKresport, September 28.-A McKees-orter who arrived from England this week and landed here to-day talks in an interesting way of the Searle-O'Connor race. He saw the race and lost money on O'Connor, and is of the opinion that the Canuck is a better oarsman than Searle, and that he can beat the latter opinion that the Canuck is a better carsman than Searle, and that he can beat the latter when in trim.

"I lost my money on O'Connor and weld place it on him again," he said. "O'Connor did not lose the sace because he cannot defeat Searle; it was because he was out of trim. Three days before the race he rowed a three-mile trial over the course and led an eight-cared crew the entire distance of the course, this, in connection with over training, lost the race for him. He is a better oarsman, a more skillful rower, has better endurance, and is a finer built man than Searle, and I would place my money on him to-morrow if he were to row."

Continuing he stated that immediately after the race O'Connor said, "Had Teemer been in this race he could have easily finished ten boat lenths ahead of me, "meaning that O'Connor could not row up to his standard and could not push Searle under the circumstances. He is of the opinion that Searle does not compare with O'Connor, and that there are oarsmen in this country who can defeat the former.

A BOLD FAKE.

Prominent Athletes Fooled by a Bogus Pro-

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE.) PHILADELPHIA, September 28.—There was a disgusted crowd of athletes at the Rising Sun Park to-day. The grand complimentary picule and athletic games postponed on Tuesday, September 17 on account of rain and announced to come off at 230 o'clock this afternoon, proved to be a fake. When the hour appointed to start the afternoon's sport had arrived not a sign was seen of Benjamin Hayes, of 125 South Third street, the projector of the enterprise, and the one solely interested in it. Fully two score of athletes from the different local athletic clubs, and from the Staten Island Athletic Club, who were to compete, had been patiently waiting three-quarters of an hour for instructions to commence the games, and a large number of people were constantly arriving and immediately departing. On receiving no information as to the cause of the delay, they began to grow disgusted at the turn of affairs. Gottlieb Jahn, the proprietor of the park, was consuited, but he was as much at a loss at Mr. Hayes' and his assistants' non-appearance as the rest. It soon became apparent that there was the settle and the state of the delay, they began to grow disgusted at the turn of affairs. Sun Park to-day. The grand complin a loss at Mr. Hayes and Ms assistants non-appearance as the rest. It soon became ap-parent that Hayes had skipped with all the entrance money and much beside that he had raised for advertisements to be printed in a gorgeous pamphlet, a souvenir of the event.

Pointers About the Czarewitch and the Young British Scullers.

(BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.) LONDON, September 28.—[Copyright.]—The race for the Czarewitch is inducing a great amount of speculation. The horse Davenport, on his forward running in a recent race against first-class horses is being backed for large sums at 11 to 2 against him. Vasistas, a consistently good performer, is second favorite at 15 to 2 against him. Not much is being done as yet against him. Not much is being done as yet with the race for the Cambridgeshire, which is looked upon as of a Aerv open character. There is scarcely a point of difference in price between the first five favorites.

The impetus given to sculling by the Searle and O'Connor race and to other matches since arranged, has induced Mr. Innes, the well-known writer on aquatics under the nom deplume of Pegasus, to offer a series of prizes for young scullers, with a view of ascertaining whether there is anything sufficiently promising in England's rising talent to warrant supporting for champion sculling honors. So far the prospects are not encouraging. English sculling has fallen to such a low ebb that it would take a great deal more than Mr. Innes can do to resuscitate it.

M'NALLY DEFEATS BECK.

An Interesting Sprint Race Between Two

Local Runners. John McNally, of Lawrenceville, and Edward Beck, of Sharpsburg, ran a 100-yard race at Homewood Park, yesterday, for $100 a side. There was a good attendance, and the betting was heavy at $100 to $50 and $100 to $80 on Mo was heavy at $100 to $50 and $100 to $50 on MoNally. The sporting editor of this paper appointed E. C. McClelland referee.

The contestants started by report of pistol, but before start was effected, McNally went over the mark, and was put back a yard. It was then that the odds dropped to $100 to $50 on him. A good start was made, and McNally at once passed Beck, winning easily by about three yards. No time was taken.

An Interesting Match. [APROIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] McKERSPORT, September 28. - Captair Quincy McClure, of McKeesport and Charle Quincy McClure, of McKeesport and Charles Glass will start their 50-bird $100 concest at a point near Pittsburg, October 10. Captain Mc-Clure says that the shoot will take place near Pittsburg, although it is not fully decided. Each man will shoot at 50 live birds according to the Bogardus rules with a rise of 25 yards, but one barrel of gun to be used and five traps from which the birds will be sent away are to be strange to the contestants.

Wilkes and Hamila Matched. 'NEW YORK, September 28.—A trotting match between Sire Broa.' Harry Wilkes and Clicero J. Hamlin's Belle Hamlin has been arranged for Frisay, October II, on a wager of $2,000 a side, at Fleetwood Park. At least two other trots will be arranged for the same day, one probably for a cup for members' horses, and another for a valuable purse for the 2-23 or some faster class. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.
